

SEVEN GUARDSMEN ENTER MARATHON

Strong Contenders Will Compete in Intercity Race on May 7.

CARROLL INSTITUTE IS NOW INTERESTED

Prof. Joyce Holds Meeting and Urges Athletes to Take Part.

The announcement in The Times yesterday that the D. C. N. G. had entered eleven individuals in the Intercity Marathon, on May 7, roused the District National Guard to such an extent that this morning's mail brought the first bunch of entries from the militia men, containing the names of seven men.

For several weeks the long-distance men have been in active training, and Prof. Joyce has decided that the seven listed today are now fit, and before the entries close he expects to be able to make several additions to the list so that ten or twelve men will be able to take part in the race.

Men Are Confident.

All entered this morning have had considerable experience, and while none are considered the real stars of this section, their average ability is sufficient to lead those who have been following the training to believe that they will make the other contestants hustle for the attractive prizes.

The latest organization to decide to enter the big day is the Carroll Institute. Prof. Maurice Joyce had a meeting of his classes last night and talked with several runners, with the result that a squad of half a dozen will commence work at once.

The Carroll Institute has not gone in for outdoor track training, but because they had no proper place to train, but in the present case the squad will do its work together in the district grounds where the Y. M. C. A. runs in the Speedway.

Joyce Likes Running.

Prof. Joyce is enthusiastic over long distance running and believes he will be able to bring out several capable runners.

The whole Y. M. C. A. squad of nearly twenty men went out last night for a long run. The association men have one advantage and that is that they lost no time in starting work as soon as it was decided to enter. Prof. Beckett was well satisfied with the condition of his men and thinks the others will have a hard time if they expect to take away from the Y. M. C. A. the intercity championship title which was last year.

Memorial Runners Out.

The Memorial Athletic Club runners are doing their work over what they consider an ideal training ground—the Conduit road.

The men started out by taking short jogs, but they have steadily increased their distances until lately they have been going as far as Cabin John Bridge. This squad, too, is almost ready and is anxious for the call to the mark.

In order that the contestants may be properly listed and all arrangements made for their care, it is desirable that entries be made at the earliest possible time.

The care of athletes, attendants, and baggage requires much more than the former entries are fitted the better will be the accommodations. No entrance fee is being charged.

BATHS TENDERED TO MARATHONERS

The weary-limbed laddies who complete the course of the Times-News Marathon from Laurel to Baltimore on May 7 will find rest and comfort at the Rowland Turkish baths, Baltimore, where thoroughly experienced masseurs will be on hand to round out any strained tendons and muscles.

H. W. Rowland, in a letter to The Times this morning, tendered the use of his place to the "Marathoners." In his letter Mr. Rowland, who is ever on the alert to further the interest of local athletics, says:

"The good work which The Times and News have done in creating interest in long-distance running is both commendable and praiseworthy, and it certainly behooves us who believe in the good of such events in making strong-hearted and enduring lads to do our level best to help along the good cause for all we are worth. As the boys finish we shall be glad to place our establishment at their disposal for a rubdown, shower bath, and, if necessary, a rest."

BASEBALL.

Johnny Kling may not join the Cubs for some time yet. His business in Kansas City is making it difficult for him to get away.

Manager Chance, of Chicago, soaks his night pillow with $50 fines.

Ned Hanlon, who watched the Phillies play at Baltimore, says that he never saw a better balanced team than the one Doolin has this year.

First baseman Calhoun and Billy Keister, formerly well known in higher baseball circles, have refused to sign with the Williamsport team of the Tri-State League at the salary offered—$15 a month.

Cy Hardgrove, who is having a trial with the Indianapolis team, pitched fourteen double-headers last season for the Monmouth, Ill., club. Cy won twelve of the bargains and lost one on an error and an angel food cake by a fair lady fan.

Jimmy Archer, Chicago catcher, says: "Hans Lobert, of Cincinnati, a speedy runner, in nine times out of ten tips his hand the minute he reaches base. The way he spreads his feet, his general all-around attitude, his furtive look, all that helps the catcher when Honus is about to start something he can't finish."

Gus Weyhing, now the manager of the Tulsa team of the Western Association, is tickled over the idea that Luther McLean, one of his pitchers, has captured the no-hit laurel wreath for 1914. The game was played against Oklahoma City a few days ago and but two Oklahomaans reached first—one on four balls and the other on an error by the shortstop. McLean struck out fifteen men.

ANYHOW, IT WAS NOT SUCH A BAD GAME

Food for Cheerful Reflection Even If Athletics Did Win—Schaefer's Fielding Attracts Attention—Reisling Unfortunate—Groom Still Wild.

By THOMAS S. RICE.

Washington vs. Athletics today, 4 p. m.

Owing to mechanical difficulties in connecting with Chief Bender's curves at the psychological moment the great enterprise of beating the Athletics for the second time in the first series has been postponed until this afternoon, or maybe indefinitely.

Otherwise, it was not such a bad game. Washington did not hit in bunches that would produce runs when they were needed, hence the Athletics were able to accumulate a score of 8 to 2. This might well have been 8 to 0 if the Chief had not eased up in the last inning to kill Germany Schaefer and some of the other old-timers in the Washington line-up with whom he had been chummy for years.

Larry Lajole had twenty chances at first base for Cleveland yesterday and accepted them all. Possibly your hunch that he is a good first sacker will work out after all.

Have you noted that Germany Schaefer is covering ground on both sides of him like the veriest youngster? If not, go out this afternoon and take a peep. The Teuton is skipping most nimbly to right or left, and handling the ball with most commendable sureness. He missed a rather easy one yesterday, but more than made up for it. This moving hither and thither at such a rate is one of the most gratifying thoughts of this doubtful season. It is especially so when taken in connection with the fact that Schaefer is batting at a rate much higher than those who had watched his early work had expected. Schaefer himself rather thought that he would be two or three weeks rounding to form, but he seems to have gone crazy on the subject of getting an early start. In the meantime, we may note that Jim Delahanty has not yet made a hit for Detroit in his new home, and is not settling the world on fire in fielding.

Doc Scanlon, who held Washington helpless for five innings when he pitched part of an exhibition game for Brooklyn, was easy for the Phils yesterday.

Sticking of doctors, there is no particular reason for viewing with alarm Doc Reisling's bad start against the Athletics. He was not a whole lot worse than Groom, who succeeded him, and was not a vast deal worse than Eddie Plank, one of Connie Mack's stars, the day he simply laid an egg. The day and his delivery was not of the goods. One swallow does not make a summer, and one off does not make a dub out of a good pitcher. If it did, Bob Groom and Dolly Gray would be back in the bushes right now, for their entrances into this company were most distressing.

The New York Americans used thirteen men in losing to Boston. Wonder if Umpire Dineen announced all those changes clearly and distinctly?

The untamed condition of Bob Groom's pitching arm is not pleasant to contemplate. He was thought to be in unusually fine shape as regards that very particular, and he has been doing great work on the mound before lunch. But, when he first appears in a big game he proves as erratic as a Kansas Legislature. It was not necessary for him to do this, or to use the game for experimental purposes. Washington was but three runs behind when he went on the slab in the second inning and Bender was by no means the hardest pitcher the club could face. We presume Groom understood this situation and that his wildness was simply natural. There is no telling how long he will remain in his present barbarous state, but as long as he does he will be a menace to the peace of mind of the fans, for when he is going badly he makes riding on a camel look like idly floating on a pond in comparison.

The bleachers in the press box are a big help to those actually recording the course of events.

Dixie Walker and Street are the card today and they should be able to hold up their end against anything the Athletics may produce. Connie Mack has others such as Krause, which are a terror to the neighbors, but down in their hearts the Washington cranks have more fear of Plank and Bender than they do of the Philadelphia pitching staff. Walker has not been as consistent this spring as was hoped, but he is coming around, and McAleer is still counting on him as one of his main props for the season.

'Twas not like this in the olden days. The times are a-ry. Here the annual spring death of people dying in unutterable agony from hydrophobia has started, and no doctor has come to the front

SMITH IS RETAINED AS COACH AT PENN

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—At a meeting of the football committee of the University of Pennsylvania, held in the office of Chairman John H. Minder, yesterday afternoon, Andy Smith was elected to again act as head coach for the Red and Blue next season. The schedule was also ratified, but the game with Syracuse scheduled for the Saturday before Thanksgiving, was not included in the list.

Candidates for the gridiron team reported yesterday on Franklin field, and the first spring practice of the year was run through. Two full elevens were made up and formations practiced. The new game puts an entirely new aspect on the sport, and many of the coaches are still undecided as to the way to put the team to abide with the new rule.

GEORGETOWN QUINT GETS TIMES CUP

The humiliating defeat by Blue and Gray, but when the team left here this morning every one on the squad seemed confident that the poor record made thus far would be wiped out by winning from Virginia.

In past years the games between these universities have always been close and hard fought, but this spring both teams are so far below the usual standard that it is utterly impossible to make any predictions. Georgetown has, at times, played good ball this season, but then again has weakened to such a degree that the team can hardly be classed as a reliable aggregation.

The principal trouble is the pitching staff, and the problem for this afternoon is the choice of the reliever, which will not be made until immediately before the teams take the field.

Virginia Hopeful.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 15.—Although the Virginia team this spring is one of the most unsuccessful that has ever represented the university, the student body is expecting a victory over Georgetown this afternoon.

Like Georgetown, Virginia has no pitchers, but the rest of the team is fairly well balanced. As a result of a mass meeting the whole student body will be at the field this afternoon to support the players to the very last.

CHICAGO MOTORISTS TO URGE MEASURE

Delegation Comes Here Next Week to Help Federal Registration.

By HARRY WARD.

Washington will be invaded next week by a delegation from the Chicago Motor Club, headed by President David Beerscroft, Secretary Harry Clinton and ex-President F. C. McDonald.

The object of their visit will be to present to Representative James R. Mann, chairman of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, a petition signed by several thousand Chicago motorists urging favorable action at the earliest possible date upon the Federal automobile registration bill.

Representative Mann's Congressional district is in Chicago, and the members of the Chicago Motor Club, Chicago Automobile Dealers' Association, the Chicago Automobile Club and other leading motoring organizations whose members have been thoroughly aroused over the necessity of having the registration bill brought before Congress for action at the present session, have adopted this means to show their Representatives in Congress how strongly they regard the importance of the bill.

The situation is aptly set forth by John Y. Calahan, an active member of the Chicago Motor Club, who says: "Whether you are an automobile owner or not, you are aware how annoying it is to touring motorists to be required to obtain a license in each State, also, after obtaining a license in one State, to obtain a permit for the enterprising petty State or municipal officers, empowered with authority to arrest and thus keep the dinner pail full at the expense of motorists, by carefully patrolling territory most traveled by motorists, who are passing from one State to another and who have not provided themselves with a license in each State entered."

The owners of automobiles are composed of men who are always in the front rank in building up the best interests of the country. They are always ready to pay their share of any public improvements, and feel that they are entitled to any privileges that the man with the horse enjoys. The latter can go anywhere without molestation so far as the road laws in any State are concerned. All the motorists want is a fair Federal registration law containing such provisions as are reasonable."
